

Registration form

User manual

The registration form is displayed on a dark blue background. On the left, there is a sidebar with a 'User' icon and a 'Settings' icon. The main form area contains the following fields: 'Full name' (with a placeholder 'Name and surname'), 'Email', 'Phone number' (with a placeholder 'Phone number'), 'Id number' (with a placeholder 'identity number'), and 'Choose password' (with a placeholder 'password'). Below these fields is a checkbox labeled 'I accept the terms and conditions'. At the bottom of the form are two buttons: 'Register' and 'I already have an account'. A note below the form states: 'Take note of the following: Please be aware that while you are registering, your identity remains anonymous when sending messages or sharing stories. No one will have access to your personal profile or know who you are.'

A user get presented with a login form, where from the login form, they can either login if they have an account or they can go to the registration page if they do not have an account or they can navigate the login page if they have an account.

Online users

The group chat interface shows a list of 'Group members' on the left, each with a profile picture, name, and status. The members are all named 'anonymous' and have the status 'Online'. The chat area on the right shows messages from 'Anonymous' with timestamps and content. At the bottom, there is a 'Logout' button and a text input field for sending messages.

Current logged in user

Log out button

Any group member

The left pane show all the users that are online on the chat, since the users are supposed to be anonymous, their personal names are hidden from everyone, no can see any personal information of any user.

The left text input assumes that this is any user on the group sending a message, while the one on the right is the current logged in user. Messages will be sent and received anonymously.